On Wednesday night a very unfortunate accident happened to a gunner of the Battery stationed here. The house which has been occupied by Mr. Sinclair, merchant tailor, and used as a store, placed on a lot belonging to Mr. T. N. Campbell, was removed, but unfortunately no steps were taken to fill in or rail off the hole dug for a cellar. The night being very dark, Willcox got off the road and happened into this cellar with the result of a broken leg, which will confine him to hospital for some weeks to come, and prevent his going back with his comrades, should the Battery leave us at the time anticipated. This seems a most unfortunate winding up to a man who has passed scathless through the North West campaign, and should serve as a warning to those who are responsible for the number of dangerous holes in the town and vicinity. No doubt this state of things will be rectified by the municipality, and had the accident not been a few days too previous the town would have been liable for the damage done. As to liability under the present circumstances we prefer to offer no opinion.

LAND POLICY.

We proceed to take up the subject of the land policy in the Territories at the point where we left off in our last issue. Our object is now to demonstrate the great disadvantages of the present policy of reservation of odd sections considered with regard to its effects upon the settlement of a country at its intermediate stage, or in other words when people have come in and made sufficient progress to begin to turn their attention to matters affecting communities rather than individuals. That this stage was arrived at in this district some time ago may be gathered from reference to a memorial embodying the requirements of the people, drawn up and presented to Sir John A. Macdonald at his own request in the spring of 1882, by Messrs. C. Mair and D. H Macdowall, in which the disadvantageous position of the Territories as compared with Manitoba—the result of the want of municipal facilities—is brought prominently into notice. Since that time municipal organization has been provided for, but the fact that provincial organization having been still withheld, and consequently no capitation or other grant given, leaves us practically speaking without a revenue, renders it doubly hard that all such social improvements as have to be paid for directly by the settlers, owing to the reservation of odd sections from settlement, requires their cost to be defrayed by one-half of the number of individuals over whom it would otherwise be spread. Were the improvements spoken of such as could be easily dispensed with for a time the matter would be of less consequence, but when they include such vital matters as churches, schools, roads, etc., there can be no question as to the necessity for giving the subject our most serious attention. With regard to the matter of providing schools for the children of settlers we have repeatedly spoken most strongly, and the fact that the exhaustion of the Territorial funds for that purpose has thrown the whole onus of their support directly on the people renders it imperative that they should be allowed to take up their homesteads in such a way as to lessen as far as may be the burden laid upon their shoulders. It must not be supposed, however, that in this most important matter of schools the heavy additional cost to each individual entailed by this at present enforced system of scattered settlement is the only one, because it has to be remembered that were the question of expense set aside there would remain the fact that in rural districts, let the school be located in the most central position possible, the distance to be travelled by children in going to and coming from it, even under the most favorable circumstances, is a very serious consideration in a country where the winters last so long and are of so severe a nature. That that distance should be unnecessarily doubled is a very serious hardship, and remembering what it means in the case of children whose homes are furthest removed from the centre of a school district, it is not asserting too much to say that it practically results in parents being compelled, however reluctantly, to grow up in ignorance—an evil which it is quite superfluous to enlarge upon. The bearing of the system upon schools has been dwelt upon merely as an illustration of what with equal force applies to churches, nor can there be the slightest difficulty in extending the principle—with certain modification—to everything in the shape of necessary improvements required by civilized communities. Enough has probably been said to show that a change is not only desirable but absolutely necessary, and we may upon a future occasion venture to suggest some means by which it might be made without entailing hardship upon any interested party.

THE CENSUS.

It would perhaps be unfair to assert that the present taking of the census of the inhabitants of the Territories with a view to giving them representation in the Dominion Parliament is a result of the recent rebellion, because the Government had previously to that unfortunate affair declared its intention of pursuing this course at an early date, but none the less it may possibly be that certain required reforms are being attended to more promptly than would have been the case had nothing of a startling nature occurred to direct the attention of the whole Dominion to our affairs. As the evil has taken place, it is useless to spend time in regretting what cannot be recalled, but there is every use in trying to manage now to extract all possible good from what has occurred, and the Government will find that the people of the Territories, so far from being unreasonable, are willing to be thankful for small mercies, if only they understand that there exists an honest desire to do them justice. If the other census commissioners are of the same stamp as Mr. Spence, who has been appointed to put through the required work in this district, there will be no unnecessary delay, so that we can now measure the time when we will be in a position to send down representatives to Ottawa. Our readers may remember that we long ago advised the people to direct all their energies to this one matter, because as we stated when once allowed a hearing in the Dominion House, we will only have to blame ourselves for the selection of unsuitable men to represent us, should we fail to speedily obtain redress of the minor grievances, which seem of so much greater importance to those who suffer them than to those who view them—without explanation of their real significance—from a distance. The North West Council must before long as at present constituted die a natural death and give place to a Provincial Legislature, and then there will not be much left for the heart of the settler to desire. The only other change of much importance required is the alteration of the land policy, and the necessity for that we hope to see the new Minister of the Interior before long convinced of. It is quite within the range of possibility that the Government may mistrust the temper of the people, and not feeling great anxiety to hasten on the time when they will become a power in Dominion politics—but we believe that if they do us justice now, and we admit that they appear to be doing this as fast as can be reasonably expected—they will be surprised at the amount of warm support they will receive from the settlers generally. It is very intelligible that men who have come to the Territories from places where they have been trained to enjoy and exercise political privileges should fret under the galling position of being taxed at least as much as their fellow countrymen and yet deprived of equality in other ways, but that matter righted, there is no danger to be apprehended from the class of men who compose the pioneers of the Territories. We sincerely trust that no hitch may occur to retard the granting of incorporation, and the neat prospect of obtaining it casts a most cheering light over the naturally resulting gloom of what has occurred in this district.

COMMUNICATIONS.

"VERITAS" AGAIN.

To the Editor of The Times.

Sir,—In your issue of the 21st ult., I noticed a communication over the signature of H. J. Montgomery in reference to a letter which I wrote to the Free Press in reply to "Veritas." The letter of "W. G." to the Toronto Mail and "Veritas" in the Winnipeg Times a bounds in fulsome adulation of the Crown Timber officials, and owing to this circumstance I and others were led to infer that if these letters were not written direct from that office the "inspiring angel" was hovering near. I may here state, however, that I have since had reasons to believe that Mr. Waggoner was neither the inspirer nor the author of "Veritas'" letter. Mr. Montgomery's reference to a private letter of mine is but a feeble attempt to secure sympathy from the members of the police force. The letter in question was written immediately after the Duck Lake fight, to a friend of mine in Charlottetown P. E. I., giving an account of the death of my son, and was not intended for publication, but to my surprise it found its way into public print—at that time it was impossible to obtain a very correct account of the battle. In the interview with a Winnipeg reporter, I stated distinctly that the mass of the N. W. M. Police Force was a fine body of men and that many of the officials, but not all, command the respect of the citizens here and I see no reason to retract the statement. I have never however at any time made a charge against either the police or Government officials, without giving my name in full. Abundant proof of the fact that at least some of the Government officials here are arbitrary and that one at least is tyrannical can be given. Mr. Montgomery has surely not forgotten that in February last he paraded our streets hunting for a dupe who would "father" an interesting, if unmanly, and not very choice epistle which he wished to publish, and in which he charged Mr. Waggoner with being utterly unfit for his duties, and recommending H. J. Montgomery as a fit and proper substitute. The term tyrannical may be capable of several interpretations, but "narrow minded" individuals like myself are apt to regard an official who spends his time not in attending to his legitimate duties, for which he is paid by the public, but endeavoring to compel settlers to pay for glandered horses—when several of our most respected citizens has sworn the horse in question was diseased; in swearing away the freedom of one of our most respected citizens; in land speculations; land agency work; and in auctioneering—thereby injuring the prospects of a young man who has been endeavoring to earn a livelihood for himself and aged parents in the profession—is at least a near approach to a tyrant. The public would like to know if in connection with his profession as an auctioneer, this horse jobber, land speculator, conveyancer, land agent, would-be town assessor and Forest Ranger for the Dominion of Canada is also store agent for Hudson's Bay Co's blankets and other goods from Carlton for which the Dominion Government will have to pay. In conclusion I desire to state that it is not my intention to take further notice of abusive communications from the pen of Montgomery as his conduct will shortly be the subject of Government inquiry.

Yours sincerely,

J. C. MACKENZIE.

ADDRESS

To Capt. Dougal, of the Steamer Marquis, at Cedar Lake, on her last trip.

The following is a copy of an address presented to Capt. Dougal, of the steamer Marquis, on August 15th at Cedar Lake, on her last trip up, by the passengers, together with a purse of $35. Captain Dougal has always been held in great esteem by those who have placed themselves under his charge.

TO MR. JULIUS DOUGAL, CAPTAIN OF THE STEAMER MARQUIS.

Sir,—The passengers on board wish to give expression to their appreciation of your quiet and unassuming manner and courteous bearing towards them, and of your evident desire to promote their comfort whilst under your care. Trusting that you may long continue to enjoy the confidence of your employers, they beg you to accept this purse as a small token of their good wishes.

D. J. Waggoner, Alex. Campbell, H. Belanger, Eleanor Campbell, Peter Badger, and sixteen others.

REPLY.

MR. WAGGONER, LADIES AND GENTLEMEN,—

Your very kind token of respect has completely taken me by surprise. I can assure you it shall ever be remembered as a pleasing event while performing my duties on the Saskatchewan.

By looking after your comfort I am only carrying out the wishes of my employers.

The address alone would have been very gratifying, but since you have so kindly accompanied it with this handsome purse, the money shall be spent in procuring a momento upon which I and my family may look with pleasure in the future.

SHOOTING MATCH!

The First Prize Meeting of the Saskatchewan Rifle Association.

On Tuesday last the Saskatchewan Rifle Association, recently organized here, held their first meeing with very gratifying results.

The competitors included members of the part of B Battery at present stationed here, of the North-West Mounted Police Force, and of course the citizens who formed the association, and the shooting throughout, considering the unfortunately unfavorable nature of the day, was extremely creditable. As ill luck would have it, that break which is sure sooner or later to follow upon a long continued spell of fine weather had just occurred and although there was not any rain in the forenoon, there was a strong cold wind blowing steadily, increased at times by violent gusts, which made the shooters cold and unsteady. In the afternoon the discomfort of the competitors was much increased by showers of rain, which although not long continued, were very heavy while they lasted. In spite of this the interest remained unabated until the finish of the three matches, viz:—The Ladies, The Merchants and The Association; which formed the programme of the first day's proceedings.

The ladies prizes were contended for by competitors chosen by themselves, and the result will by seen in the annexed lists of prizes later and their scores. The total amount of prizes represent a very handsome sum of money—the circumstances of the settlement considered. The rewards paid out in actual cash came to $190, while the value of the various articles which formed the other prizes, brought the money value up to a total of $450.

On the following day the shooting was confined to a competetive match between three teams, selected from the artillery, police and citizens. This match began about half-past one, and after a close contest came to an end about five o'clock, with the citizens leading by two points. The day was too windy, but fortunately no rain fell. Of course all could not be victors, and we may without being ungenerous feel a little elation at the success of the citizens. Some of them assert that they could have done still better, but are afraid if they show what they really can do, that the Government may take fright, and extend the operation of the disarming act to this settlement, but of course people may believe as much of this as they please.

THE CONVENTION

Of Delegates to Choose a Representative Candidate of the People for the N. W. Council.

A meeting of a convention of the delegates of each polling district of the electoral district of Lorne, was held at Mr. And. Spence's residence, Red Deer Hill, on Saturday, August 29th, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for the North West Council.

The following delegates were present:—Messrs. T. E. Baker, W. J. Carter and J. F. Kennedy for the Town; Wm. Cromartie, Wm. Gerrond and Andrew Spence, South Branch; Adam McBeath, S. W. Vanluven and John Neilson, Colleston; Robt. Adams, Robt. Giles and Thos. Swain, Lindsay and St. Cathrines.

Mr. And. Spence was appointed chairman and J. F. Kennedy secretary of the convention.

A committee consisting of A. McBeath, T. E. Baker and R. Giles were appointed to examine credentials, and reported them correct.

On motion of Mr. Giles seconded by Mr. Carter, Messr. Gerrond, McBeath and Vanluven were appointed to draw up a platform for the guidance of the candidates.

Messrs. C. Adams, A. Stansfield and Capt. Hoey were appointed scrutineers.

The platform prepared by the committee was then presented as follows:—1st—To the best of his ability he, the candidate, should endeavor to work for the best interests of the farmers, of this district—endeavoring to crush monopolies. 2nd—That we will not support a member of incorporated companies, and that we are opposed to the Government appointing members to neutralize the votes of those of the people. 3rd—That we want a representative council.

Moved by A. McBeath, seconded by Wm. Gerrond, that this meeting pledges itself to support, by all lawful means in its power, the nominee of this convention. Carried.

Moved by Mr. Vanluven and seconded by Robt. Giles, that the convention now proceed with nominations. Carried.

Dr. A. E. Porter was proposed by T. E. Baker seconded by Robt. Giles.

J. F. Betts was proposed by Robt. Giles seconded by W. J. Carter.

O. E. Hughes was proposed by Robt. Adams and seconded by T. E. Baker.

And. Spence was proposed by Wm. Gerrond, seconded by Wm. Cromartie.

John Stewart, proposed by W. J. Carter seconded by Wm. Gerrond.

Adam McBeath, proposed by S. W. Vanluven seconded by J. F. Neilson.

S. W. Vanluven, proposed by Adam McBeath, seconded by J. F. Neilson.

Messrs. Spence, McBeath and Vanluven, owing to personal reasons, each declined the honor.

The nomination being closed, the ballot was next proceeded with. The result of the first ballot was:—Porter, 6; Hughes, 5; Betts, 1; Stewart, 0. 2nd ballot, Porter, 6; Hughes, 5; Betts, 1. 3rd ballot, Porter, 6; Hughes, 6; the last ballot being a tie, it was moved by Wm. Gerrond, seconded by Robt. Giles, that the chairman have the casting vote. Carried. The chairman then gave the casting vote in favor of Dr. Porter.

A unanimous vote was then given for Dr. Porter.

A vote of thanks was tendered to Mr. Andrew Spence, as chairman of the convention, after which the meeting was declared closed.

THE NOMINATION.

On Tuesday the first day of this month the nomination of two candidates for the forthcoming election for the North-West Council took place, but without exciting much interest. Of course the simultaneous occurrences, the shooting matches, will account to some extent for this want of interest in the nominations, but it may be still more strongly attributed to the fact, that the people all feel that this business of the N. W. Council constitutes a farce which can only survive a very short time longer. The two candidates were Dr. Porter and Mr. O. E. Hughes.

Dr. Porter was nominated as a result of the proceedings of the convention, and Mr. Hughes, probably by some of his personal friends, who would like to see him occupy the position, and are not disposed to be bound by the doings of the convention.

We have grave doubts whether Mr. Hughes, who is at present away, will consider it worth while to contest the matter, or indeed whether under any circumstances he would be inclined to touch it.
